Hello, everybody. This is Chuck here. We are in Orlando with yet another face to face office hours. And I'd like you to meet some of your fellow students in the class. So give your name and some pithy thing to say to the class optionally, okay? >> Hi, I'm Ann. I've taken all of the Python for Everyone courses and I just really enjoy it. And I enjoy Dr. Chuck's teaching style. So I'm having a lot of fun. >> Thanks Ann. >> I am Pete. I graduated from Michigan 50 years ago. >> Go blue. >> Go blue. And I wanted to learn an object oriented language as opposed to the FORTRAN and Assembler that I learned before. >> So did you learn, did anyone ask for an object oriented lecture? >> No. >> Okay, somebody did and that's why I did it. >> Hi, I'm Amy and this is my fourth Dr. Chuck class. >> Cool. >> Hi, I'm Emmy and I just started with Dr. Chuck's course and it's really awesome to meet him in person. You should do it. >> Hi, I'm Tom and this is my first Coursera class that I actually went through more than two days with. So good job, Chuck. >> Here we go. >> Hi, I'm Rahul. This is my third class with Dr. Chuck, and this is very fun to take. >> Cool. >> Hello, I'm Roy, this is my second Python class, I'm new to programming and I'm loving it. >> Hi, I'm Shawn, this is my third Python class and really enjoying it, thank you. >> Hey everybody, Noah. I wish you could all be here in Orlando. Have a great class. >> I am Tamara, I am one of the mentors for the Python specialization. >> Right, so we all owe you a tremendous debt of gratitude because you're a volunteer. And how many hours a week do you spend on the course? >> More than you think I should. [LAUGH] Probably 40, 45 a week. >> Volunteer so, let's all have a round of applause for Tamara. >> [APPLAUSE] >> So thank you, thank you so much. [LAUGH] >> I'm not going that far. >> So yeah, these courses would absolutely not work without the mentors and they're volunteers that really keep the life every single day, and keep the course alive. So my thanks to Tamara and every mentor that really puts so much into every Coursera class. See you next time, South Africa, maybe. Cheers.
